

Please don't stop XM Radio from providing me with weather and traffic information. They provide a service that I pay for and expect. I travel all over the country in my car, and there are times when I can't pick up a clear radio station. Now that I have XM, it's comforting to know that I always have easy access to the information I need.

I'm actually getting ready to leave for a three week road trip throughout the west and pacific northwest of the country. My two friends and I are planning on visiting 15 national parks for some rock climbing and mountain biking. The XM weather information will be good to have when driving on the barren/scenic roads we plan to take. Please don't take away what XM currently provides. Thank you, Chris,

a concerned college student